

About Maria Pastorelli

Maria is an enthusiastic and passionate coach, facilitator, writer and speaker dedicated to empowering people to do their best work by supporting them in focusing on their strengths and acquiring new skills. She has been in the coaching and training industry working with individuals and organizations in China and Europe since 2011.

With a cross-cultural communication background, she has helped teams and organizations improve their soft skills across cultures: presenting, negotiating, influencing, leading, writing, and communicating with peers and clients from diverse backgrounds. Her strength is creating and delivering customized, engaging and effective group and individual training and coaching programs to help professionals by clarifying their priorities and focusing on doing the right things.

Maria is a community leader: in 2018 she founded the Global Women Entrepreneur Network (G.W.E.N.), a learning and sharing community focused on helping women entrepreneurs improving their personal and business skills and in 2019 she co-founded Monday Morning Motivation, a community for everyone who wants to develop healthy, meaningful and sustainable habits.

Maria has a degree in Cross-Cultural Communication and works in English, Italian and Chinese. Originally from Italy, she has lived in China since 2010.
